Bolognese runs in Falmouth Road Race in support of Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

By JESSICA KASPARIAN
News Correspondent

WILMINGTON — Gina Bolognese, a Wilmington resident and the marketing manager at Ninety Nine Restaurant & Pub, will run in support of Dana-Farber Cancer Institute at this year's Falmouth Road Race.

This is Bolognese's third year running with Team Lanzoni, a team of 102 runners honoring David Lanzoni, the Ninety Nine's former vice president of operations who died of cancer in 2006.

"Team Lanzoni is part of the Dana-Farber team. This team has grown tremendously. Last year was the first year that we had the largest team," Bolognese said. "It's so nice to run with people that you work with, some people you don't even know. It just creates this great sense of unity and everybody is running towards the same cause."

Dana-Farber runners are required to raise a minimum of $1,500 to participate, which means fundraising on top of training for the Aug. 20 race.

"The past two years, I did go a little bit above that $1,500 mark, which has been awesome, so I'm trying to do that again this year so that over the past three years, I will have raised a little over $4,500 for Dana-Farber," Bolognese said. "Everybody who donates I'm so grateful for, everyone has been so generous and so supportive and they've really helped me, helped bring me to that finish line."

Bolognese said she never thought of herself as a runner, but was compelled to join Team Lanzoni after starting at the Ninety Nine in November 2014.

"When I started, everybody was talking about this Falmouth Road Race and Post 136 participated in the Memorial Day Parade and Ceremony on May 29 and made a great showing. Thanks to all who participated, including those who stayed at the post to prepare for the collation afterwards. We have made it to 100 percent membership again this year!

Our annual cookout is planned for July 15. Volunteers would be appreciated and there is a sign-up sheet at the post. As always, pot luck dishes are welcome.

We have scheduled our annual cookout at the Bedford VA Hospital for August 5. This is a very worthwhile event that we do each year and can use all the volunteers that we can muster. The patients look forward to events like this from organizations like us and we all enjoy it together. A sign-up sheet will be at the post.

Sadly, we have lost a long time member. Edwin J. Williams has recently passed on to Post Everlasting. To quote another of our long time members, "He was a Vet's Vet"! He will be missed.

SPECIAL RULES HELP MANY PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES QUALIFY FOR THE EARNED INCOME TAX CREDIT

The Internal Revenue Service wants taxpayers with disabilities and parents of children with disabilities to be aware of the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) and correctly claim it if they qualify.

Taxpayers who retired on disability can also count as earned income any taxable benefits they receive under an employer's disability retirement plan. These benefits remain earned income until the disability retiree reaches minimum retirement age.

Taxpayers may claim a child with a disability or a relative with a disability of any age to get the credit if the person meets all other EITC requirements. Use the EITC Assistant, on IRS.gov, to determine eligibility, estimate the amount of credit and more.

People with disabilities are often concerned that a tax refund will impact their eligibility for one or more public benefits, including Social Security disability benefits, Medicaid, and Food Stamps. The law is clear that tax refunds, including refunds from tax credits such as the EITC, are not counted as income for purposes of determining eligibility for benefits. This applies to any federal program and any state or local program financed with federal funds.

History:

William Harnden Foster, illustrator, writer and 'the father of skeet'

By LARZ F. NEILSON

Very few people have the good fortune to make a career 'doing what they love. Illustrator William Harnden Foster, the "Father of Skeet," built a career around the things he loved most, trains and hunting.

There was no place on earth where Bill Foster was happier than tramping the Shawsheen meadow environs with his grandfather, Everel Harnden. Everel had grown up in Wilmington, and sometime before 1880, moved into the old stagecoach tavern at Shawsheen and Main streets in Tewksbury, on the old Boston - Lowell turnpike. The illustration shows the house close into the corner, with the road to Lowell on the left. Shawsheen Street runs to Andover on the right.

"What a place was the old Tewksbury homestead for a gun-struck boy," wrote Foster, describing the tavern as a fall hunting camp, with his grandfather's many friends.

Their hounds would be in the barn stalls and their guns in the corners in the kitchen.

That hunting tradition had a strong influence on the young Bill Foster, who was first allowed to hunt at age 12, in 1898. He had a life-long love of many facets of hunting: guns, dogs, birds, along with tradition and fellowship.

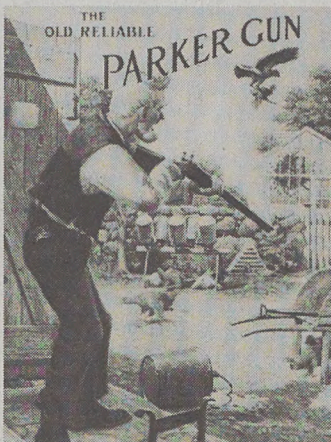

Most of the Fosters were railroad men, in the heyday of trains. While in high school, Bill began drawing trains, which proved to be his ticket to a great career. His work was good enough to gain admission to the Museum of Fine Arts School in Boston.

Advanced study with Howard Pyle led him into illustration, a bread & butter path for artists. Pyle's students were generally quite successful, N.C. Wyeth, Norman Rockwell, among them.

With Pyle's encouragement, he submitted a collection of railroad illustrations to Scribner's Magazine. Not only did the magazine pay him an amazing sum, but it encouraged him to write a story about them, landing another skill in Foster's toolbox.

He embarked on a career of illustration and writing spanning a transitional era in transportation.

One of his memorable illustrations showed a 1909 Oldsmobile racing the 20th Century Limited, the New York Central's famous train which ran for 65 years between New York and Chicago.

go. Both companies became Foster's clients for decades, and the Limited was a favorite subject.

Seven years after the Wright brothers first flight, Scribner's published a collection of Foster's illustrations of aircraft.

The building of the Panama Canal was the third leg in monumental transportation advances in the early 20th century. Foster travelled to Panama to write and illustrate an article for Scribner's, published in 1910.

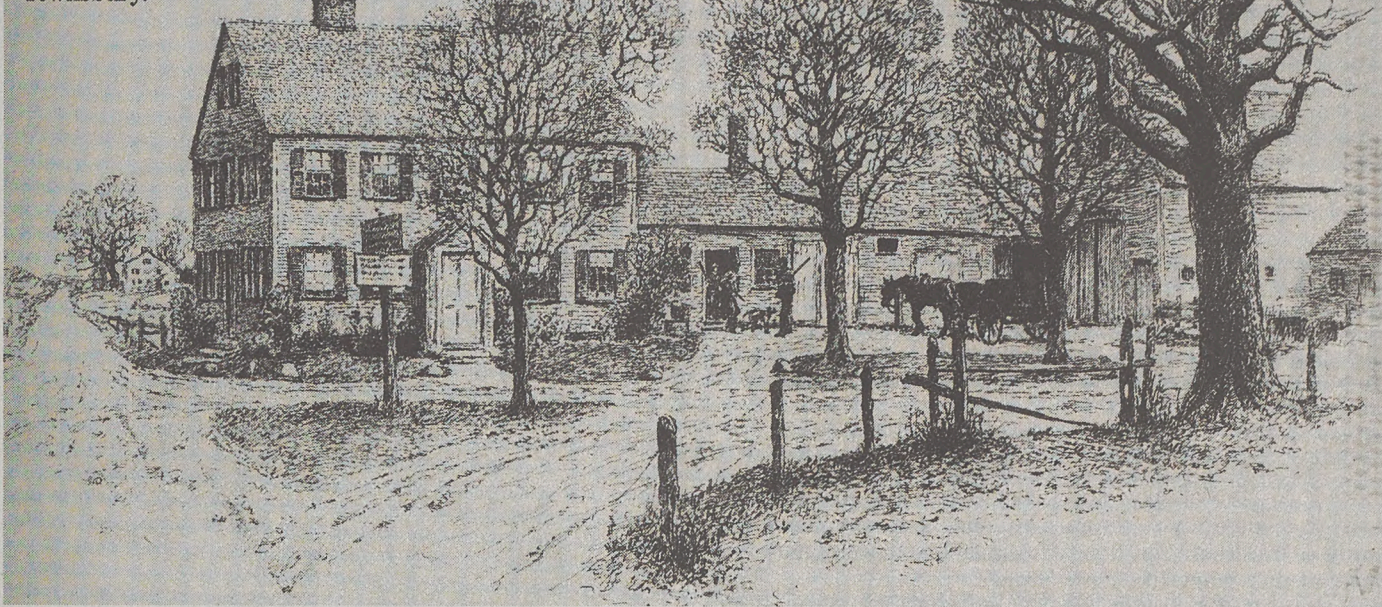

In 1909, he signed onto a ship transporting live cattle from East Boston to Liverpool, to write and illustrate the process. Can you imagine having to secure and care for 500 head of cattle for 10 days on board a ship? This was for no pay, only passage and food. Crews were generally made up of immigrants wishing to return home, and it is not something they would repeat. It was a most unpleasant voyage, yet for the era, it was not uncommon.

Cattle on the hoof was worth double the price of processed meat in England. It would be six years before the article was printed in Harper's magazine. His artwork of the voyage included some paintings, but Harper's printed them in black & white. The originals are now in the collection of the Portland Museum of Art.

He sold at least a dozen illustrations to the Saturday Evening Post to accompany articles written by others.

The railroad line through Andover ran directly to Maine. In 1908, he built a summer cabin in South Freeport, where he became friends with L.L. Bean. Bean in 1911 introduced the Maine hunting shoe, which he sold in his store and by mail order. When Bean produced his first catalog in 1925, he used a Foster illustration on the cover. It showed a very surprised hunter, attired and outfitted with L.L. Bean gear, coming face to face with a moose. Foster loved to put some humor in his work whenever possible.

In 1922, he became the editor of two sporting magazines, published in Boston. He loved the magazines, and the position allowed him the vehicle of expression for his artwork and writing.

Friends in Andover, Charles and Henry Davies, along with Foster, had a shooting game, which they called "shooting round the clock," shooting clay pigeons in a circular pattern. The site where the game was developed was in Andover, off Dascomb Road. Then a neighbor built some chicken houses, and the circle had to be cut in half. Searching for a name, Foster ran a contest in National Sportsman in 1926. The winning entry was "skeet," the Scandinavian word for shoot.

Skeet shooting became quite popular, and was used by the U.S. Army in World War II for training troops to shoot at moving targets. When the National Skeet Hall of Fame was established in 1970, Bill Foster was its first inductee.

Foster retired from the magazines in 1935, turning his attention to writing his legacy book, "New England Grouse Shooting." He tells some great stories about Ev Harnden and "The Little Gun," a 16 gauge Parker shotgun.

When as Ev Harnden acquired it, about 1893, his hunting friends thought he had lost his mind.

Foster wrote, "As news of 'The Little Gun' spread, lanky men dropped in of an evening to 'heft' it and speculate on its practical value. 'Gee-rifus, Ev!' they'd say, 'she don't weigh nothin', does she?' Then they'd set the front log in the fireplace to sizzling, to add impressiveness to the statement."

"The Little Gun" weighed six and a half pounds, nearly a pound and a half lighter than anything carried by local gunners.

Foster wrote "The fame of the little gun became immortal the morning that grandfather and Elbridge Gerry stood in the same cart road and (the dogs) drove a fox right along the edge of Deacon Pillsbury's wood-lot. Mr. Gerry swung onto him with his 12-bore Scott. . . then, deciding it was hopeless, lowered it without shooting. Ev Harnden, 20 rods farther on, had the fox at the same distance, a little farther if anything, waited for him to stretch out at the top of a jump and dropped him in a heap, using only the left barrel. Elbridge Gerry paced it off, slowly and somewhat dolefully.

"Ev," he said, "that was nigh onto 54 honest yards, and by the power o' mud, that was the thunderin'est shot I ever hope to see."

Foster inherited that shotgun, and it is still in his family. A Parker 16 is a valuable gun, and it has been written that the only one that exceeds the value of Foster's belonged to Annie Oakely.

Foster gives some history of market gunners and tells of the heath hen and passenger pigeon, both extinct. He wrote about hunters setting off on foot for a day-long tramp, lunch in a paper bag and their dog at heel.

"If anybody comes lookin' for me, tell 'em it ain't no use."

A chapter on bird dogs discusses the traits of several breeds and the varying standards for them.

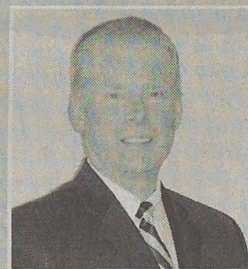

Foster was an expert on dogs, and was judging a dog trials event in Connecticut in late 1941. He suffered a heart attack and died in the field. His book, released by Scribner's two months later, remains a classic among bird hunters.

Eva Yagood turns 103

WILMINGTON — It's safe to say that Eva Yagood, who just turned 103 years old on June 23, has seen it all.

Born in 1914, Yagood has lived through both WWI and WWII, the Korean War and Vietnam. She's also lived to see 18 presidents from Woodrow Wilson to Donald Trump.

Yagood credits her longevity to eating fruits and vegetables (though she does enjoy the occasional snack of dark chocolate), getting outside whenever possible, enjoying the fresh air, and taking lots of walks.

Yagood grew up in Lithuania one of 11 children. At 25, she met her husband, Peter, and together they raised three children.

Before that, Yagood has to escape occupied Germany, survive the Great Depression, and watch her father leave to serve in WWI. (He would later return when Yagood was four-years old, though she had no idea who he was at the time.)

Now, decades later, she's surrounded by friends and family.

Letters to the editor

Don't take my Redmen name away

Dear editor,
To the two blow-ins that moved to Tewksbury and want to change my Redman name & tradition. You don't have a clue what the Redman name has meant or done for our community.

My Micmac grandma raised our family in this community and we were taught at an early age to be proud of who you are and where we came from.

Our present and past coaches and players take pride in their work and their great accomplishments make me proud of the work they have done to keep the Redman tradition standing tall.

Think of Plymouth Rock where the first soup kitchen was held. This is Native

Redman Land!!!!

You say you feel offended, I say "Too Bad." You've insulted me and my heritage. Sounds like discrimination to me.

I am a 1978 Redman graduate, resident of this town for over 40 years and have always given back to the community. You knew it was Redman country when you moved here.

You're more than welcome to leave!!!!

We have bigger issues to deal with: the opioid crisis, homelessness on the streets, elderly choosing whether to buy their meds or eat.

GO GET A LIFE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Third grade students receive Norway Spruce sapling

For Arbor Day, the Tewksbury Garden Club presented all third graders in the school system with a Norway Spruce sapling on Friday, May 5.

This program is made possible through a grant from the Tewksbury Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

In conjunction with this program and the art teachers, all students made posters which are judged by Garden Club members. In each classroom, first, second and third place ribbons were awarded. Also, a book on a related nature subject was awarded to the first place winner for their school library. This year the theme was "If I Were a Tree, What Kind Would I Be?" and the artwork of the students was outstanding.

The Tewksbury Garden Club finds this program to be very rewarding and the students look forward to it each year.

Build a Better World Summer Reading Program

By VICTORIA OATIS
Assistant Children's Librarian

The summer reading program is in full swing at Wilmington Memorial Library! This summer's theme, Build a Better World, is designed to keep kids reading and entertained all summer long.

The reading program helps to prevent summer slide, which is a tendency for students who do not read over the summer to fall behind in reading and math. The reading program at Wilmington Memorial Library encourages kids to spend 16 hours reading throughout the summer, which helps maintain the gains they made in reading over the school year.

Kids of all ages may sign up to record their hours on a Lego themed reading log. When they sign up for the program, they will receive a bookmark and a Lego figure to decorate and hang in the library.

As they read over the summer, kids can earn prizes that include toys, water bottles, Topsfield Fair prize packages, and books. Kids can also collect stamps each week and earn Lego pieces to add to a giant Lego tower. Stop by the library to sign up!

Teens can also participate in the summer reading program! Teens will work toward collecting pieces of a 3D printed keychain and earn raffle tickets for bi-weekly drawings. Prizes include books, water bottles, and raffle tickets for Lego sets from around the world. Teens can also guess the Book-in-a-Jar!

During the eight weeks of summer reading, the library is chockfull of Build a Better World programs featuring construction, engineering, the environment, and social action. The library has events for kids and teens of all ages, including Mike the Bubble Man, Teddy Bear Picnic, and the ever-popular All You Can Read Buffet.

To celebrate the end of summer reading, the library will host its second

Michael R. Duffy

Spent time in Maine helping troubled youth

Michael R. Duffy, age 46, of Portland ME, formerly from Wilmington, died unexpectedly on July 12, 2014, surrounded by his loved ones.

Michael was a wonderful son, loyal brother and devoted father; and an awesome uncle! In passing he joins his parents Charles Duffy Jr. and Dorothea (Froton) Duffy; his older brother Charles Duffy III; and maternal grandparents Burton and Mary (Walsh) Froton and Paternal grandparents, Charles and Mary (Edwards) Duffy.

Michael is survived by his daughter Catherine Duffy (Portland); his brothers and sisters, James Duffy & wife Barbara (Tewksbury), Karen Duffy (UT), Kevin Duffy (Boston), David Duffy & wife Lynel (Indianapolis), and Mary Duffy & wife Anne Crawshaw (Anthony, FL).

He is also survived by his loving godparents, Mary Elaine (Froton) Kelly (Portland) and Richard Froton (Wilmington); several nieces and nephews including: Mark Webster, Lynne Webster, Lianne (Duffy) O'Dea, Dave Duffy, James Duffy, Danielle (Duffy) Thompson, Danny Wandell, John Duffy, Dylan Duffy, plus many cousins and a whole host of friends.

A true Bostonian and a prevailing force. He had the best sense-of-humor. In 1990, he married the love of his life, Susan Fowler, and in 1991 they had their only child, Catherine Duffy.

Michael and Sue shared a passion for helping others, and soon after Catherine was born, they took a job in Aroostook County, Maine to run a group home for troubled youth. For several years they worked together in Aroostook raising Catherine and running the home. Michael loved life, people, food, and animals! But his real passion was for cooking and he shared it with everyone, as he catered parties and weddings and created special memories; until it was time for a change.

Catherine went on to college, and Michael refocused his professional work and volunteer efforts to the awareness and treatment of HIV/AIDS. He served on many committees throughout Maine working. One of his favorite new adventures was to march in the Portland Pride Parade, now his daughter marches every year in his memory.

Michael was truly a one of a kind soul and is missed daily. Now he can rest in peace with his family, a family he loved so dearly.

The Golden Rule has always guided the owners and staff at Tewksbury Funeral Home. Caring for and guiding the family of a loved one who has passed is the most important part of our service.

A family of service minded people intent on helping the community in many ways, the Deputat family has helped charter and is a member of several civic organizations in Tewksbury.

When one visits the funeral home one is steeped in the town's history. The building was built over a century ago and has been in the family well over half that time. Lovingly restored and improved by hand by Walter Deputat, the facility is designed to accommodate large and small gatherings, all in the comfort of our up-to-date building.

We invite families to contact us in time of need or for preplanning. We are dedicated to providing the very best facilities, a full range of merchandise, and the finest funeral services at a reasonable cost.

We are committed to serving Tewksbury and the surrounding towns with compassionate services at a cost that only a family owned provider can offer.

Our goal is to not only to meet, but to exceed, our client expectations.

Visit Italy in Boston

Eataly offers Italian cuisine in the Prudential Center shops

By PAIGE IMPINK
News Correspondent
paige@yourtowncrier.com

Abbondanza translates to 'abundance' in Italian, and that is exactly the way to describe this gastronomic eatery which just opened in Boston in November 2016. The destination Italian marketplace, dubbed Eataly, is located in the Prudential Center shops. Celebrity Chef Mario Batali has added Boston to his New York and Chicago locations, a veritable extravaganza of all foods Italian. Created through a partnership with PBS's Lidia Bastianich, Batali's vision is for people to be transported by the smells and tastes of Italy while liberating them from their cash. So far, it's working.

A series of vendor stalls offer Italian coffee, hearth-baked breads, delectable pastries, creamy gelato, extensive charcuterie or cured meats in dizzying quantities and varieties. Fresh pasta is constantly being made within view, a whole section is devoted to wines from various regions (with free tastings every day at 5 p.m.) and olive oils are given star treatment.

Artisanal hard and soft-rind cheeses are available, locally produced with some made on site in the mozzarella lab. Not to be outdone, cooking related kitchen tools you never knew you needed are artfully displayed. A make-your-own salad area features greens grown at a hydroponic farm at Devens. Look up Little Leaf Farms and watch the segment on Chronicle. Fascinating.

While it is fun to stroll the vendor stalls, visitors can also choose to sit and eat at any number of restaurants/cafes, sit at a high top table, or take your food to go. Cooking classes are offered as are tasting tours of Eataly. Learn to make fresh pasta, how to choose wine, taste a sampling of cheeses, learn to pair pasta and seafood.

The whole experience is not dissimilar from the Boston Public Market, another fantastic culinary walk through. BPM has a broad variety of cuisines and vendors whereas Eataly goes deep just in Italy.

Parking for Eataly is inside the Prudential Center and can be validated. The whole Prudential has been transformed with shops and eateries and one could make a day of it by combining with a trip to the Skywalk Observatory on the 50th floor. The theatre district is nearby on Stuart Street making dining here a pre- or post-theatre option as well. Meeting a friend at the wine bar and splitting some oven-baked pizza could be another way to get immersed.

As one reviewer commented, "it's cheaper than a ticket to Rome!"

SPRINGFIELD — Eve E. Carciofi, of Tewksbury, appears in Western New England University's spring production of Beauty and the Beast to sold-out audiences at Western New England University.

Based on the 1740 French Fairytale, La Belle et La Bete, Disney's Beauty and the Beast just celebrated its 25th anniversary this past fall. "Beauty and the Beast resonates with all ages which accounts for its longevity," says Directors Hillary Haft Bucs and Alexandria Escribano. "It has a compelling story, its themes are universal, and it touches the audience in many ways. As Mrs. Potts sings, Beauty and the Beast is "A Tale as Old as Time."

A Massachusetts Educational Theater Guild award winner, Eve Carciofi is a freshman Pre-Pharmacy major. She played the roles of Silly Girl #3, napkin, and the wolf in this production of Beauty and the Beast. This is her first production with the Stageless Players, but her second production of Beauty and the Beast. She was in a number of plays throughout high school including Into the Woods, Zombie Prom, and Catch Me If You Can. She co-wrote and co-directed an original show for her high school last year.

Bolognese and Team Lanzoni running for Dana-Farber

in my head it just seemed like, 'Oh my god, seven miles. I cannot do that, especially on a hot August day,' but then I started to learn the story behind the run," Bolognese said.

"To see the passion that my team members here at the Ninety Nine have for this race, it was honestly contagious. It was definitely something that I wanted to be a part of."

That passion and the encouragement from her teammates helped Bolognese advance from an occasional run to race ready.

"Team Lanzoni — we send emails back and forth to each other about different 5Ks that are going on around the area and you know if you want to jump on those, there are a bunch of different team members so we can all run together and train together," Bolognese said.

"We call each other our accountability partners. It really is good if you're starting to lose steam, just send an email to the group and they'll push you."

Bolognese's teammates are not the only motivators she has while running, she also has dealt with her own loss.

"My nana was 67 when she passed away from breast cancer in 1992 and she could have been around a lot longer if it hadn't been for this horrible disease taking her way too soon, so when I run, I do keep her in mind knowing that I'm running to raise money for research, awareness, and ultimately, a cure," Bolognese said.

As Bolognese and Team Lanzoni gear up for the race, she hopes to receive donations for Dana-Farber and spread awareness through her fundraising efforts.

"Donations are the ultimate goal, but even if they can't donate, just creating that awareness that cancer is obviously still very much around and we have a team of people who are trying to look cancer in the face and fight against it," Bolognese said.

"In my experience, everybody I know has been affected by cancer some way or another, so I think if we try to spread the word about this through the community, the Wilmington Community, maybe some people will want to [donate]. If they were going to donate to Dana-Farber anyway this year, we could put it behind this run."

Donations to Dana-Farber Cancer Institute through Gina Bolognese can be made at <http://www.rundanafarber.org/falmouth2017/ginab>.

Robert P. Palmer receives key to town in recognition of his service over 64 years

After the reading of the proclamation, each member of the board and the Town Manager thanked Palmer for his hard work and dedication to the Town.

"Mr. Palmer, I just want to keep it simple because it was well said. God bless you and your family, and thank you for your service to this country and this community, and we know that you love this community, so thank you, thank you, thank you," said Selectman Ed Loud.

Selectman Michael McCoy remembered Palmer as Acting Town Manager as well as working with him during his time on the Board of Selectmen, and expressed thanks for Palmer's time as Superintendent of Public Works.

"I have certain memories with you being here because I'm like an oldie but goodie, as well. You've done a great job, Bob, and I don't think anyone could come as far as you can with all of the dedication and all of the different hats you've worn in this town; you're a gentleman, so thank you," he said.

"I know that the town is much better for having you in it and serving the town in the capacities that you did. I can't say much more than congratulations, best wishes, thank you for your service in the military, and thank you for the many years that you volunteered here," said Selectman Kevin Cairra.

"I want to thank you as somebody who grew up here during the time that you were serving the town. I really appreciate everything that you did to be one of the people who make this such a great community, people like you have made Wilmington the greatest place to live, so I appreciate all you've done and I appreciate the example you've set for folks like us of what service really means to this community so that we can live up to the bar that you've set so high. I appreciate your service to our country, I appreciate your service to our community, and I wish you a very long and healthy retirement," stated Selectman Gregory Bendel.

Selectman Chair Michael Champoux thanked Palmer for being a mentor and an example to all.

"I echo those sentiments of course. When I was new on this board eight and a half-ish years ago, just trying to find my way and find my voice, you, sir, were a mentor to me in the way that you conducted yourself. You are a gentleman among gentlemen. Your ability to be tough on the issues and steadfast in your opinions, but also to engage with even those who may have an opposing opinion to yours in any way that's respectful and gentlemanly, to me, is an example to all of us as to how we ought to be conducting our lives. So, thank you for living as an example for, certainly us at this board, but all of us in this community. I also wish you great happiness and a lot of good fun in your retirement years; you've certainly earned it, so thank you, sir, very much."

Hull also thanked Palmer for being a mentor to him and mentioned some advice he had received from him.

"Bob was one of the people that really had no concern whatsoever about sharing his knowledge. From my perspective, learning a lot about Wilmington itself, its history, and then also, in many respects, taking me under his wing, so to speak, in terms of learning a little bit about governing and how we operate as public officials. I've always considered him a mentor with a tremendous amount of wisdom, and I'll just give you a couple of examples that I still consider pretty valid words of wisdom to this day.

"One of them I remember him offering to me was if the press is ever critical of you, never shoot back, because they have more ink. The second point that always comes to mind is in terms of public places, whether it's the playgrounds or the buildings, stay on top of the maintenance because when things start to go south, if you don't stay on top of it, it kind of emboldens people to do more to deteriorate our parks and all. So, those two pieces of wisdom I've always thought about and they still hold just as true today as they did back then, so Bob I consider you a friend and all the best."

Tara Tonello and Shelley Kresser, sisters who both grew up in Wilmington, started fundraising in 2010 in honor of their mother, Susan Hardimon, diagnosed with MS in 2003. They participate and fundraise for the three-day, 50-mile MS Challenge Walk, along with their husbands Brian and Erik and cousin Marissa. They find that fundraising for research is their way to honor their mother and others they know with the disease for their strength, bravery, and determination they show each day facing such an unpredictable disease.

Multiple sclerosis, also referred to as MS, is thought to be an immune-mediated disease in which the body's immune system attacks myelin, the substance that surrounds and protects the nerve fibers of the central nervous system. The damaged myelin forms scar tissue, or sclerosis. This causes the nerve impulses traveling to and from the brain and spinal cord to be interrupted.

More than 2.3 million people are affected by MS worldwide. Most are diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 50, and about two thirds are women. Symptoms may be mild, such as numbness in the limbs, or severe, such as paralysis or loss of vision. However, symptoms vary from person to person and change over time.

There is research being conducted to find the causes of MS, how to stop its progression, restore function to people affected, and end MS entirely. More than 380 research grants and fellowships receive funding from the National MS Society, which Team Sweaty Already donates to. Team Sweaty Already has said they won't stop fundraising until a cure is found and more therapies and treatments are available.

The team has said they "feel so fortunate to be able to walk each year in honor of those who can't. 50 miles over three days is no easy task. You walk 20 miles on Friday, 20 miles on Saturday, and 10 on Sunday, but it's nothing compared to what those living with MS have to face each day."

Tara Tornello said, "Every dollar we raise helps the National MS Society get one step closer to finding a cure and allows them to provide additional support services and programs to help those living with MS today."

To learn more about the team's fundraising efforts, visit <http://teamsweatyalready.com>. Here you can donate to their efforts and register to participate in a second cornhole tournament they have planned for later this summer. The tournament will be in East Bridgewater on Saturday, Aug. 12.

Sr. League All-Stars reel off four straight wins

By DAN ZIMMERMAN
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
WILMINGTON -- The Wilmington Lou Tomkins All-Star Senior Baseball team, since dropping its summer season opener with a narrow 5-4 loss to North Andover, has reeled off four straight to improve to 4-1.

While the starting pitching has been exceptional through this significant stretch of baseball, it's the dominant hitting that has left the last three opponents in arrears to the tune of a lopsided 32-3 runs scored margin.

Following the loss to North Andover, Wilmington took out its collective frustrations, topping Lynnfield by a score of 12-5 to even its record at 1-1. Next up was Framingham, which came in with a matching 1-1 mark. Wilmington, enjoying its first home game, jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the first inning and eventually doubled that tally for a 12-0 blanking, marking back-to-back 12-run games.

"Darin MacEacheron pitched a solid game against Framingham, allowing only one hit after five innings" reported Wilmington Coach

Rick Hill. "And he got plenty of offensive support from our hitters, including Connor Zaya, Brian Moran, Dan Stein, and Max Hubbard, who drilled a key triple."

Wilmington next traveled to Acton-Boxborough High School last Friday for a game under the lights and continued to impress at the plate, scorching the opposition to the tune of 15 hits. For the third consecutive game, Wilmington amassed a dozen runs. Dan Stein had a great night with four hits while Will Mills added three and Dan Cronin contributed with a double and a homer. Starting hurler Hubbard nearly went the distance, allowing just three runs on seven hits through six frames.

Most recently, Wilmington took its explosive bats to Veteran's Field for a matchup with Methuen, which to that point had only contested one game, a defeat to a tough North End squad.

On the mound for Wilmington was James Hill, returning to action for the first time since he was sidelined by a hamstring injury on Father's Day in Lynnfield. Hill was no worse-for-wear as he fanned nine while tossing a one hit, complete game shutout. Meanwhile, the prolific Wilmington hitters rang up yet another eight runs in the effort.

"We've been getting out to early leads recently," said Hill. "In the game against Methuen, we put up three runs in the first inning on a pair of two-out base hits from Brian Moran and Alex Baptiste. Dan Stein and Dan Cronin followed with doubles to add insurance runs."

The Wilmington procession around the basepaths continued with a trio of fourth inning doubles from Zaya, Stein, Cronin, and a single from Moran. Dan Stein rubbed salt in the Methuen wound with a seventh-inning homer.

Wilmington heads into the July 4th holiday weekend in second place, trailing the North End team by a game in the win column. The next three games, all home at Scanlon Field, include rematches with North Andover (7/5) and Acton (7/7), followed by a visit from Melrose.

Astros advance to the Big Diamond League Championship Game

By JOE QUILTY

sports@yourtowncrier.com
NORTH READING -- With a spot in the Finals of the Middlesex Big Diamond League Championship at stake, the No. 3 seed Wilmington Jr. League Astros beat the No. 2 seed North Reading Orioles last Thursday evening, 4-1.

The win put Wilmington into the championship finals which was scheduled to be played on Tuesday night against the Lynnfield Grey team but was postponed. No make-up date was announced as of presstime.

Jimmy McCarron was tremendous on the mound as he only allowed one earned run in the 6.1 innings he pitched, to earn the win.

"This group has just finds ways to get it done with pitching and defense," said Astros' Manager Dan Ardito. "Jimmy McCarron was awesome with ten strikeouts, most of them being in the middle innings. It was great to see. Then, Derek Gallucci came in and threw strikes (to get the final two outs for the save)."

McCarron helped out his own cause by hitting a sacrifice fly in the top of the first, bringing in Drew Gallucci home to score making the semi-final game 1-0 Wilmington.

The defense played a big part in the win as well. With the score still 1-0 in the bottom of the sixth with two outs, North Reading threatened to do some damage. With runners on first and second, a deep fly ball was sent out to center field that was sure to score two runs. Instead, center fielder Nate Packer put an end to any hope the Orioles of North Reading had of scoring that inning by making an amazing, potentially game-saving catch.

"I think Nate Packer's catch in the (sixth) inning was a game changer," said Ardito. "That was a huge turning point in the game. In a one run game that was huge."

Clinging onto that slim 1-0 lead, the Astros got some insurance runs in the top of the seventh. Drew Gallucci worked a walk followed by singles from Derek Gallucci and Jimmy McCarron. Ryan Santini hit a sacrifice fly to left field bringing McCarron home making it 4-0 heading to the bottom of the sixth inning.

McCarron started the bottom on the seventh on the mound for the Astros. After catching a pop up, the dominant southpaw left the mound finishing with a 95-pitch performance fanning ten Orioles for the game.

Derek Gallucci came to the mound with two outs needed to move on to the finals. After giving up a hit to the first batter, Gallucci struck out the next two batters to bring the Wilmington Astros one game closer to being named Middlesex Diamond League Champions.

"It was nice that we scored those three runs in the seventh to give us some breathing room but it's still tough in that situation to come in, where they're the home team," said Ardito.

Although North Reading made things interesting in the bottom of the seventh with the tying run on the on-deck circle, Ardito said that Derek Gallucci was up to the challenge of closing out the win.

"He did a great job coming in," said Ardito.

Brendan Ardito, AJ Lavigne, Sam Cedrone, Kyle Breen, and Ashton Lowell also played well for the Astros in the win.

Pony League team splits pair of games

sports@yourtowncrier.com
After a rainy start to the season, the Wilmington 13-year old Pony League team finally got their season underway this past week, and they quickly went about making up for lost time, going to extra innings in each of their first two games, coming away with a 1-1 record in the early season contests.

In their first game of the season, the Wildcats lost a heartbreaker, dropping a 9-8 extra inning thriller to Methuen in a home game last Tuesday night.

The Wildcats were led in this game by the strong pitching by Garrett Moretto, Devon McLaughlin and Aiden O'Connell. The Wildcats trailed by four runs entering the bottom of the seventh, but stormed back to tie, forcing extra innings. Ryan Santini and Jack Toomey scored to get it started and Ben McEwen drove in two more runs. McLaughlin and Darren Hamilton each added clutch singles but Wilmington ended up falling just a little bit short, foiling a tremendous effort by the entire team.

Things turned out much better for the Wildcats in their second game, as this time they were rewarded for their great efforts with an 8-7 extra inning win over North Reading in another home game last Wednesday. Wildcats starter Aiden O'Connell pitched three strong innings before giving way to Joey Dynan to hold them to one more run the rest of the way. Once again, it was a great seventh inning comeback for the Wildcats, as Jack Toomey, Danny McConalogue and Darren Hamilton scored in the inning to tie it up at 7-7.

Then in bottom of the eighth, the winning rally was started with a leadoff single by Garrett Moretto who stole second and then stole third to get in scoring position, before the next batter, Aiden O'Connell ripped a walk-off up next with a walk off single to win it.

This year's Wilmington 13 year old Pony League team includes Garrett Moretto, Ryan Santini, Joey Dynan, Nick Benson, Ben McEwen, Aiden O'Connell, Jack Toomey, Stephen Smolinsky, Darren Hamilton, Colin Gates, Derek Ingram, Jake Glinner, Danny McConologue and Devon McLaughlin.

Five WHS Players participate at League All-Star Game

Last Thursday night, the Middlesex League held its second annual All-Star Baseball Game which was held at Ferullo Field in Woburn. Wilmington had five representatives including Chris Grecco, Jared Aucoin, Matt Rideout, Tommy Worob and Robbie DuCharme. DuCharme was a replacement for teammates Danny Gracia and Graham Smith, who had a conflict with their summer league teams. Wilmington High Coach Aldo Cairra served as the Freedom Division Manager, along with his assistants and the Watertown Head coach. The Freedom Division came away with a 3-1 victory. Rideout had a single and was followed by Worob who got hit by a pitch and they both scored the second and third runs for the Freedom on a two-run single by Melrose hitter Nick Cordeau. Grecco pitched the fifth inning and earned the win.

Also on Tuesday night, the WHS Baseball team had its end of the year dinner banquet. Awards went out to: Dan Gracia for Team MVP and Cy Young Winner; David Woods as the Coaches Award; Graham Smith for the Defensive Play of the Year and for the Gold Glove; Matt Rideout as the Silver Slugger; Tom Worob as the Rookie of the Year and Offensive Game of the Year; Carl Beatrice as the 10th Player Award; Chris Stokes as the Fireman Award; Robbie DuCharme as the Most Improved Player; Peter Marino as the JV Team's MVP and Tristan Ciampa as the Freshmen Team's MVP.

Also captains for next year's varsity team will be Danny Gracia (for the second straight year) and Graham Smith.

Finally, Coach Cairra has been seeking previous team records and found out that Josh Howlett has the most saves (7) in a season dating back to the 2001 season.

AA All-Star Game features some dominating pitching

By JOE QUILTY
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
WILMINGTON - Rotary Park played host to the AA Wilmington All-Star Game on Sunday with the team of the Astros/Braves/Giants beating the team of Pirates/Cardinals/ Royals by the score of 6-2.

Pitching was the main focus of this game. Erin McCarthy of the Astros pitched a dominant first inning, striking out three of the four batters she faced. Jake Banda of the Cardinals returned the favor in the bottom of the first by also striking out three of the four batters he faced.

Ryan Gray of the Giants showcased his pitching in the top of the second inning, facing seven batters and striking out two of them looking, although Luke Kitanov of the Royals came around to score after being put on base from a hit-by-pitch.

Other notable pitching performances form the team of Astros/Braves/Giants were Nolan Richards of the Braves with two strikeouts while facing four batters, Mikey Taylor of the Astros faced seven batters and also struck out two batters, Noah Titterington of the Giants faced three batters and struck out one, and Shane McDonald of the Braves struck out all three batters he faced to end the game and secure the victory.

On the other side, Jake Carr of the Royals had two strikeouts out of the five batters he faced. JR Haggerty of the Pirates had one strikeout from the nine batters he saw. Thano Mesmaris of the Cardinals had two strikeouts from six batters. Nathan Caples of the Pirates had one strikeout from the eight batters that made their way to the plate.

Three Braves players, Nolan Richards, Jackson

Guy, and Shane McDonald all scored in the bottom of the third inning making the score 3-1. Gray had the key double.

Two innings later, Guy, McDonald, and McCarthy came home to score. Gray knocked in a run while Kennedy drive in two on a single. Connor Sullivan and Titterington added hits in the inning as well.

Also contributing were Case Kennedy and Matt Driscoll of the Braves, Joe Fennelly, and James Passerini of the Astros, Eric Banda, Ronnie Jordan, and Logan Zimmer of the Cardinals, and Dante McCollum of the Royals.

"I thought everyone played a terrific game under the bright lights and a gigantic crowd of dozens of people," said Astros' and All-Star coach Stew Pruslin. "The pitching was great, the hitting was great, it was probably the most tightly played game all season."

The Pirates/Cardinals/Royals team got contributions from their entire roster as well. Jake Banda, Jake Carr and Thano Mesmaris were all solid on the mound, each striking out their share of batters.

Carr had two singles while Luke Kitanov added to the hit column as well. Luke Cushing, Ronnie Jordan, Jake Banda and Eric Banda also found ways to get on base. Dante McCollum made a nice play in the infield while David Dynan and Logan Zimmer were two of the many others who contributed to the great defense.

Representing the Pirates included J.R. Haggerty, Derek Perrault, Nathan Caples and David Dynan. Haggerty pitched one inning and had two solid hits. Perrault had a great play from right field throwing out the batter at second base. Caples pitched one inning and played solid defense making a great catch in foul territory while playing third base.

Also, Dynan had a good inning behind the plate and had a great catch on a line drive while playing short stop.

Cavanaugh said that he emphasizes to the kids that it's important to get the bat on the ball.

"I thought the kids had fun and they did a good job," Royals and All-Star coach Joe Cavanaugh said. "They made a lot of good plays on the field. The kids went up there swinging."

"If everyone gets a hit every time they're at the plate, they'll be tough to beat," he said. "It doesn't have to be a home run every time. I thought they did pretty well. We had a lot of bases loaded situations. Today was just about having fun. I think they had a good time."

AAA All-Stars slug their way to a combined 21 runs

By JOE QUILTY
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
WILMINGTON - Rotary Park hosted a pair of minor league baseball all-star games and the second on the day featured the Triple AAA all-stars, who showcased their talents in a 14-7 game.

The two teams were made up of players on the Giants, Astros, Royals, Braves, and Cardinals split the team in half so players that were on the same regular season team could face each other in the all-star game.

There's no doubt that if there was an MVP award given for this game, Astros all-star John Defeo would have been the recipient. He went 2-for-2 with two singles and reaching base four times. Defeo also scored every time he got on base.

Anyone that was watching could see the look of determination of his face every time he was rounding the bases, especially when there was a pass-ball at home plate and Defeo decided to beat the catcher and slide in safe for the score. To add on to that, he pitched a perfect third inning striking out all three batters he faced.

Giants coach Tom Dalton was very impressed with what he saw out on the field, "They all hustled and it was nice to see them close out the season on a positive note."

Johnny Dalton of the Giants and Kevin Mason of the Cardinals both hit triples in the third inning, helping their team score four runs that inning.

Two innings later Braves all-star Lars Ostebo had a good day going 2-for-3 with a bases clearing double that turned into him eventually scoring on two throwing errors. Defeo, Dalton, and Ryan Murphy of the Royals came in to score because of Ostebo's hit.

Zach MacKeil of the Cardinals, Will Trach of the Giants, and Andrew Maiella of the Braves all got on base to eventually come around to score as well.

Coach Dalton had fun on Sunday and so did all the kids. "It was a good game and really fun for the kids. That's what it's all about anyway. I thought it was very competitive. Everyone was polite of the field but at the same time they were trying their best to win. I like that all the kids were good sports the whole way through. I'm very satisfied with how these guys played."

Other solid pitching performances came from Jake McLean of the Giants facing three batters and striking out two of them, Kevin Mason of the Cardinals with one strikeout, Royals all-star Ryan Quamme with two strikeouts, Kyle Gabree of the Astros had one strikeout, and Connor Lowell of the Astros finished the game with one strikeout.

On the other side of the diamond Nick Keogan of the Cardinals hit a single. Then, Keenan Considine and Joe Gronemeyer of the Giants hit a single of their own. Sean O'Donoghue batted Keogan in for the score. Joey Galvin of the Braves was up next and he hit a bases clearing double to score Considine, Gronemeyer, and O'Donoghue.

Solid pitching performances were on display from Royals all-star pitcher Nicholas Spencer with two strikeouts, Brett Gallucci of the Cardinals with a strikeout, Keenan Considine of the Giants with two strikeouts, Sean O'Donoghue of the Braves with three strikeouts out of the four batters he faced, Joey Galvin of the Braves with one strikeout, and Nick Keogan of the Cardinals with two strikeouts.

Brennan Walsh of the Braves, Will Lamonica and Will Biscan of the Royals, and Lane Couto and Shane Maguire of the Astros all had solid performances offensively and defensively. Eric Packer of the Cardinals couldn't play due to illness, but he was at the game supporting his all-star teammates.

"It was a good game and a lot of fun," said Royals coach Mike Spencer. "The kids had a lot of fun and that's all that matters."

Redmen come away with a victory over Wildcats

By DAN ZIMMERMAN
Sports Correspondent

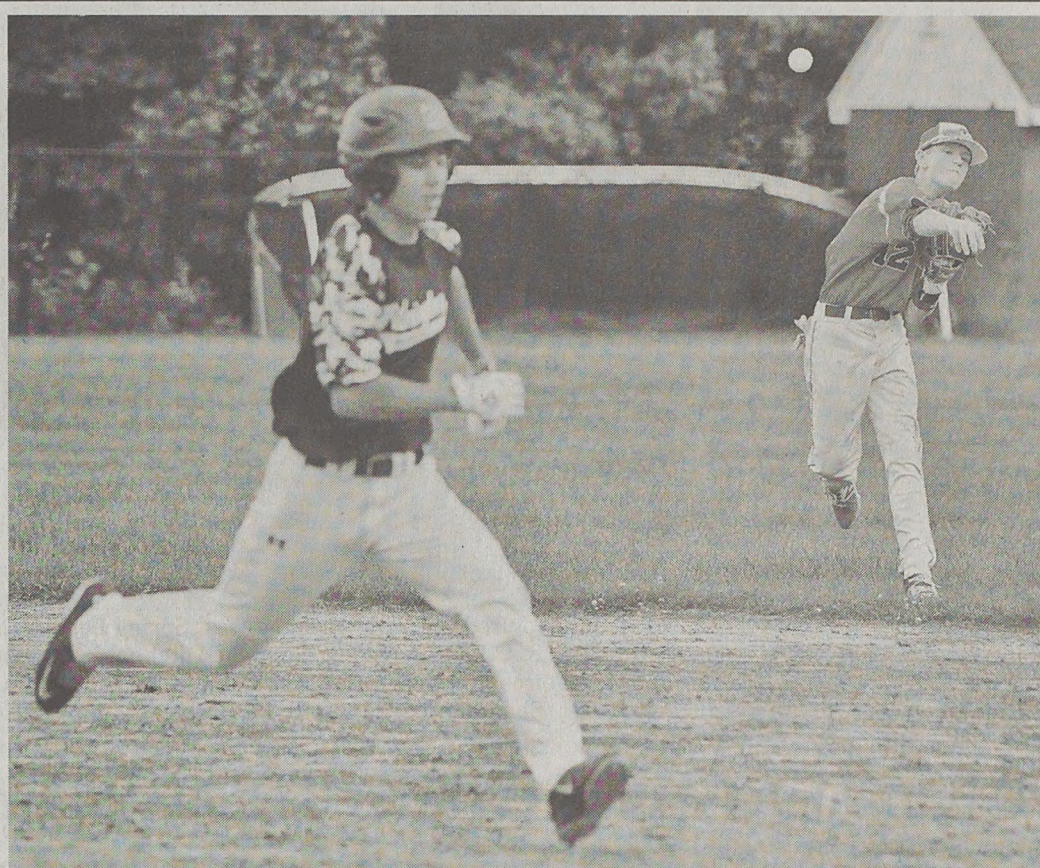

sports@yourtowncrier.com
TEWKSBURY -- On the heels of a tough defeat to Billerica several days earlier, the Tewksbury Northeast baseball team rallied Monday evening to come up with a decisive 8-3 win over rival Wilmington.

In what can only be described as a frantic second inning, the Tewksbury Redmen relentlessly circled the basepaths on four hits, five walks, and six runs to take what proved to be an insurmountable lead.

But more impressive was the fielding, which has improved in leaps-and-bounds since a tarnished season opening 10-0 defeat to North Reading. Not only was Tewksbury error-free against Winchester, there were a number of clutch defensive plays that robbed hitters of extra-base hits. During the fourth inning, for instance, centerfielder Colby Wilson threw a bullet to cut down Wilmington lead-off hitter Tom Worob, who paid the price for attempting to stretch a single.

"I think that has a lot to do with the culture of summer baseball," said Tewksbury Coach Rob Wallace, when asked about the noteworthy defensive improvements. "In our first game, we were coming right out of the high school season. High school is a little different and the kids play uptight. There's more pressure on them. But over these past few games, I think these kids have been able to take a deep breath, relax, and go out there to make great plays."

Wilmington fell under .500 to 2-3 with the loss and has settled into a win-one, lose-one pattern, starting with a season-opening 6-0 loss to Billerica. From there, they beat up on Lowell Catholic, 13-1, lost to Lowell, 10-0, and snapped back with a 4-3 win over North Reading before reaching Tewksbury.

Wilmington's Ben Maynard tries to hustle back to first base before getting doubled off by Tewksbury's Jared Whitby, who made a catch on the pop up during the Northeast League match-up between the two teams played Monday night at TMHS.

"We've had an up-and-down season so far," admitted Wilmington Coach Jim Boyle. "To get a bunch of seventeen-year-olds to show up here to play baseball in the summer, at 6 o'clock and on weekends, is a tall task. I think if I pressured them more, we'd be in a different place. But we like to keep it loose to hold their interest."

While Wilmington starter Bailey Smith, a freshman, struggled with his control, allowing five hits and walking seven before exiting after three, his counterpart Kyle Obst had a balanced outing, scattering four hits through six. He also helped himself at the plate, batting 4-for-4 and driving in Wilson to take a 1-0 lead in the first inning. "Talk about coming a long way," said Wallace, who is now 2-3 as the season nears the midpoint. "In his last outing, Kyle walked seven guys in seven innings. Tonight, he didn't walk anyone through four. He didn't get a lot of innings in the spring. Since his pitch count has started to climb, so has his endurance. We're seeing the results on the mound."

Tewksbury batted around the order in the second, adding a half-dozen runs to build a comfortable 7-0 cushion. Boyle relieved Smith with Chris Stokes, who stemmed the tide. He was, in turn, replaced by Michael Fiorenza, who yielded the game's only extra basehit, an RBI double from Jack Menard.

Heading into the fifth inning and trailing 8-0, Wilmington manufactured a run to sidestep a shutout. Jarred Aucoin led off with a walk, stole second, and later scored on a Stokes basehit.

As Obst tired in the sixth, Wilmington added a pair to slice the deficit to 8-3. Smith tagged and scored from third base on a sacrifice fly and Peter Marino soon followed on a ground ball out.

"Tonight, we had one bad inning," said Boyle, who next hosts Tyngsboro Thursday night. "Throwing a freshman pitcher can sometimes be tough but I would say at this point, our weakness has been fielding. When we don't field the ball, we don't win. I think our pitching and defense is going to win more games than our offense."

"Anytime it's a Tewksbury-Wilmington game, it's nice to be on the winning side," said Wallace, who hosts Billerica in a rematch Wednesday night. "That's a good team and this is a funny league. I mean, earlier this week, Wilmington beat North Reading. Whoever shows up to play - whoever is the hungriest - usually comes out on top."

Alatalo selected to Academic All-America D2 track-and-field team

WALTHAM -- Recent Bentley University graduates Erik Alatalo (Wilmington/Wilmington HS) and Tim Bolick (Hopkinton/Hopkinton HS) have been selected for the 2017 CoSIDA Academic All-America® Division II Men's Track and Cross Country third team by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

They are the fourth and fifth Bentley student-athletes to gain the prestigious honor during the 2016-17 academic year, joining hockey player Max French and football players Bryan Hardy and Sam McDonald.

Both Alatalo and Bolick distinguished themselves on the track and in the classroom before graduating Summa Cum Laude on May 20, achieving grade point averages over 3.8 during their Bentley careers. Alatalo majored in both accountancy and liberal studies while Bolick, whose father Paul was a two-time Academic All-America for Bentley during the mid-80s, earned his degree in corporate finance and accounting.

Alatalo and Bolick were key members of the Falcon cross-country team that qualified for the NCAA Division II Championships last November. In the NCAA regional, Alatalo was 28th overall in 32:39.4 and Bolick crossed five places and 12 seconds later.

A four-time Academic All-Northeast-10 selection, Alatalo earned Division II All-East Region honors in the 10,000 meters this spring. He finished sixth in the 5,000 at the Northeast-10 Indoor Championships, posting a time of 15:33.08, and was eighth in the 10K at the outdoor conference championships (32:52.31). Alatalo owns the eighth best 10K time in program history (31:50.47) and third best since 2000.

Bolick also earned All-East recognition following the recent outdoor season with his honor coming in the 800 meters. His highlights during his final year as a collegian included placing third at the indoor Northeast-10 Championships, 5th at the outdoor NE-10's and eighth at the New England's, all in the 800. His time of 1:51.68 in the 800 outdoors ranks second in program history and he is also sixth on Bentley's indoor list in the 800 (1:54.13).

Alatalo has accepted a position with PwC (PricewaterhouseCoopers) while Bolick will be a credit analyst for TD Bank.

Alatalo and Bolick give coach Kevin Curtin's Bentley track program a dozen Academic All-America awards (seven men, five women) during the past six years.

All-time, Bentley student-athletes have earned 77 Academic All-America awards, a total that ranks 11th among all Division II institutions. Of those, 34 have come since 2010.

The Division II Academic All-America® program is being financially supported by the NCAA Division II national governance structure to assist CoSIDA with handling the awards fulfillment aspects for the 2016-17 Division II Academic All-America® teams program.

Pee Wee Spring Team celebrates as the champs

The Wilmington Wildcat Pee Wee Spring Hockey Team headed to the playoffs this past weekend as the No. 4 seed, but they quickly showed that seeding, as well as regular season results, meant very little once the post season was underway, as they stormed their way to the Pee Wee West Division championship with three consecutive victories, two of which came over higher seeded opponents.

The Wildcats kicked off the playoffs with a 5-1 win over the Junior Rangers on Friday night, advancing them to the semi finals where they would take on No. 1 seed Billerica. The Billerica Icemen had beaten the Wildcats earlier in the season by a score of 6-1, but Wilmington would have no part of that this time, as they showed up ready to play some hockey Saturday afternoon in Lawrence and beat down that same Billerica team by that same 6-1 score, but this time in their favor, earning themselves a spot in the finals.

That win set up the fired up and hungry Wildcats for a matchup with the No. 2 seed Cobras for the championship. Having lost to the Cobras earlier this season 9-5, the 'Cats knew they needed to bring their best effort and in Sunday night finals at Valley Forum in Haverhill, they did just that, coming away with a thrilling 8-7 victory.

It would be the Cobras getting on the board first early in the game, but Wilmington answered quickly as Ryan Hayden buried the puck from Brian Barry and Nicholas Spencer tying the game at 1-1. Just two minutes later Bobby Dodge redirected a shot from Matt DiZogio over the Cobra's goalie to give the Cats a 2-1 lead. Despite the solid goal tending of Kayla Flynn, the Cobras added 3 goals to close out the first period on top 4-2.

The determined Wildcats fought back in the second period. At 9:15 Cam Splaine fed a pass to Tyler Beals who put a great wrist shot upstairs past the Cobra goalie to pull Wilmington within one goal, and a little more than a minute later it was Daniel Lagunilla slamming home a rebound from DiZogio to tie the game at 4-4.

The defensive efforts of James Caples, Jacob Smith, Griffin Carr, Matt Breen, Spencer and DiZogio were massive throughout the game keeping the Cobras at bay. Next to light the lamp was Splaine putting in the loose puck from Beals giving the Wildcats a come from behind lead at 5-4. With 3 minutes left in the period, Carr picked up a pass from Zach Mackieil and put a solid shot past the Cobra net minder. Wilmington took the 6-4 lead into the final frame.

In the third period action, the Cobras answered with a quick goal making it 6-5, but with 9:51 to go in the game some hard work from right wing Brett Gallucci lead to a nice goal by Barry from Carr making it 7-5. Some great hustle from Alex Burns, Lagunilla and Dodge created more scoring chances. With just under six minutes to go it was Barry to Hayden on a tough angle shot beating the frustrated goalie again for an 8-5 lead. Hayden's second goal of the game proved to be the winner.

The Cobras, however, would not go away quietly. With 4:45 to go in the game they closed the gap to within two and then with just over three minutes to play they scored again., making it 8-7. Wilmington's defensemen Breen, Smith, Caples, Carr, DiZogio and Spencer stepped up large down the home stretch, while some outstanding saves by Kayla Flynn when it counted the most secured the championship win for the Wildcats.

All players contributed to the successful playoff run, and the coaches and fans were thrilled with the team's big win!

Shamrocks capture Valley League championship title

Capping off a remarkable post season run, the Shamrocks '04 White Hockey team captured the Valley Hockey League Bantam West Spring League championship this past weekend, clinching the title with a 5-2 victory over the New England Stars on Sunday at the Lawrence Valley Forum.

Sunday's win capped an amazing turnaround for the Shamrocks, a team consisting of many players from Wilmington. After an 0-5 start to their season, the Shamrocks went 5-0-2 down the stretch, including three wins in the playoffs. They entered the playoffs as the No. 6 seed, but knocked off in succession the No. 3, No. 2 and No. 4 seeds on their way to the championship.

They were led to victory on Sunday by a pair of goals from Pano Vlismas, along with some outstanding goaltending by Thomas Dalton, but in reality it was a total team effort throughout the playoffs that led them to the title.

The Shamrocks jumped on top early in this one, when just 18 seconds into the game, Vlismas converted a 2-on-1 opportunity off of a great setup by John Downing. Defenseman Chad Cao also assisted on the goal, and the Shamrocks were off and running.

They would double their lead shortly thereafter, when Ethan Qi converted on a nice setup from Connor O'Leary to make the score 2-0 just 1:44 into the contest.

That was how the score would remain until the midpoint of the second period when the Stars finally solved Dalton to cut the lead in half at 2-1 with 6:06 left in the frame. The Stars appeared to control the territorial play over the next several minutes, but the Shamrocks defensive corps of Cao, Ryan Bornstein, Matt Schwarze and Patrick Casey held them at bay, and when they did get off a quality scoring chance, Dalton was there to stone them.

The Shamrocks pushed their lead to 3-1 with 1:02 left in the period when Vlismas scored his second goal of the game on an assist by Stephen Ditchfield, but the Stars pulled back within one with 6:19 left in the game.

That was as close as they would get however, as Connor O'Leary and Shane Papineau scored insurance goals for the Shamrocks in the final five minutes, with Papineau's goal being one for the highlight reel, coming from an impossible angle along the side of the Stars net.

The Shamrocks had earned their spot in the championship game with a thrilling come from behind 4-3 win over the Wilmington Wildcats '04 team on Saturday. Many of the players on the Shamrocks actually played for both teams this Spring, and have been teammates of the Wilmington players for many years through Wilmington Youth Hockey, setting up a great matchup, not only for a spot in the championship game, but for bragging rights as well. The result was a well played, hard fought battle with great goaltending as well as some outstanding offensive plays on both sides.

Wilmington actually jumped out to a 2-0 first period lead, shocking the Shamrocks with a pair of early strikes, the first coming on a great individual effort by Owen White, who came in on a breakaway and rifled a shot into the top corner for a 1-0 lead with 9:22 left in the first period. Shortly thereafter, Ryan Murray doubled the Wildcats lead with a short-handed goal on a breakaway of his own, making the score 2-0 with 5:12 left in the period, and that is how the teams would go to the first intermission.

The Shamrocks fought back, however, with a four goal outburst in the second period, with two of the goals and an assist coming from Anthony Angiuoni. Angiuoni got the comeback started with 7:29 left in the period, converting on an assist by Connor O'Leary, to pull the Shamrocks within 2-1. He would then tie the game less than two minutes later, pouncing on a rebound in front and depositing it into the back of the net for a 2-2 tie, with assists going to Patrick Casey and Pano Vlismas.

The Shamrocks grabbed the lead for the first time with 2:07 left in the period, when John Downing potted a goal on assists from Vlismas and Stephen Ditchfield. They would cap their scoring barrage with exactly one minute left in the period when Angiuoni won a faceoff just outside the Shamrocks blue line and zipped a perfect pass to O'Leary, who did the rest from there, out racing the Wilmington defense to make the score 4-2 as the teams headed into the final session.

Wilmington would not go quietly however, as Shane Costello pulled them to within 4-3 with 10:33 left in the game on an assist by Sean O'Donoghue.

Both teams had plenty of chances to add to their totals, but with some stellar goaltending by Thomas Dalton for the Shamrocks and Joey McLaren for the Wildcats, there would be no more scoring and the Shamrocks had punched their ticket to the finals. The Wildcats meanwhile, wrapped up a very successful season that saw them finish in second place in a nine team league during the regular season.

Both the Shamrocks and Wilmington had won their quarterfinal games to earn a spot in the semifinals, with the Shamrocks defeating the North Shore Lightning by a score of 2-1 on Thursday night behind goals from Pano Vlismas and Anthony Angiuoni. The Wildcats meanwhile, had defeated the Wolves by a score of 5-1 on goals by Will Alworth, Colby Medeiros and Aydan Churchill, and a pair of goals from Cam Marzilli. Shane Costello notched two assists in the victory.

Pouliot making valiant comeback

By DAN ZIMMERMAN
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com

TEWKSBURY -- There are countless reasons to travel to the self-proclaimed "most magical place on Earth," otherwise known as Walt Disney World. Foremost is the opportunity to see the joyous looks on children's faces as they experience, in person, all that this theme park has to offer. But many adults, including honeymooners, also visit for unique vacations that include thrill rides, shows, and other diversions.

And then there is Tewksbury's Nichole Pouliot, whose most recent trip to Walt Disney World became a proving ground during her comeback from a debilitating medical condition.

After several years of successful distance running and racing, Pouliot woke one mid-summer morning last year to find she was suffering from excruciating back pain and severe swelling in her lower legs. "Something wasn't right," as she described it.

"Having a family history of blood clots, I went to the doctor and was admitted to the hospital that same day," she continued. "An ultrasound showed that I had blood clots in both legs. How could a young, healthy person like me get blood clots?"

More tests revealed the clots had formed just below her IVC (inferior vena cava) in both legs. Instead of a day or two inpatient stay for simple blood thinner infusion, Pouliot would require a far more invasive procedure known as EKOS, where catheters were inserted behind each knee to allow a surgeon to pump "clot buster" medication directly into the afflicted area. Her hospital stay grew to four days and needless to say, resulted in a long, grueling road to recovery.

Pouliot didn't take up running until she reached her mid-twenties. At the gentle urging of her husband Dan who she met six years ago while living in Arizona, she embarked on a 5K preparatory program which the couple had researched online. As Pouliot took to a treadmill during the 2013 winter season, she remained skeptical.

"I was never a runner," she recalled. "Growing up in San Jose, California, I was a competitive swimmer from the ages of 9-18. I hated running so much that I would rather do a two-hour swim workout at 5 am than a simple gym class that required running. When my husband suggested we prepare for the event together, I thought it was a horrible idea."

But Pouliot, 30, persevered and continue to train through the winter and ultimately took to the starting line for her first 5K road race, the Gold Star Run for Honor, held in Saugus over the 2013 Memorial Day weekend.

"I actually earned third place in my age group," she said. "Needless to say, I was hooked."

Hungry for more, this newly-minted distance runner added several 5K races and in January, 2015, completed the Disneyworld Half-Marathon in a time of 2:04:22. It was the first of a dozen such races at her favorite distance and part of a lofty goal to complete 40 half-marathons before turning 40.

Her undertaking was side-tracked, however, with the onset of her medical episode in 2016. The post-surgical rehabilitation was slow and tedious, to say the least.

"For weeks after the procedure, I could barely walk," recalled Pouliot, who has been employed by Lexington's Imprivata as a HR and payroll specialist for the past seven years. "It took three weeks with the use of a walker to finally cover just several feet. Soon, I was able to walk a mile with my husband and while it took 25-minutes, it was a huge victory. I was determined to keep fighting and get back to where I was before."

Getting back included the completion of the January, 2017 Dopey Challenge, which is part of the Walt Disney World Marathon weekend and features a 4-day series of events of varying distances totaling 48.6-miles.

"The road to get there was anything but easy," admitted Pouliot, who successfully finished all four events including a 5K, 10K, half-marathon, and subsequently, a full marathon. "I missed two full months of training due to my hospitalization and then suffered another setback with an ankle sprain. But against all odds, I was able to complete the Challenge!"

Pouliot went on to credit the Wilmington-based Sole Sisters, along with her husband, for helping her through the trials of recovery. She pointed out that many of the club's members have overcome obstacles to either initiate a running program or like her, return to the sport following a medically-induced hiatus. Like many of the 260 active distance runners who make up the Sole Sisters, Pouliot discovered the women's running club via an online search.

"I was always an individual runner but as I began to train for the half-marathon, I found I was bored and lonely on longer runs," she explained. "I tried a few area clubs but none really filled the void, that is, until I joined a Sole Sisters group for a Saturday run. They were welcoming and friendly and I enjoyed the team atmosphere that had been missing since my swimming days."

Pouliot currently owns a 1:56:25 personal record at the half-marathon distance, garnered at the 2015 Baystate event in Lowell and is currently training toward a return to this event in the fall with hopes of mustering a sub-1:55 finish. It's an understatement to say she has come a long way from the surgeon's table in a relatively brief span of time.

"The road to every accomplishment starts with the decision to try and that's exactly what I did," said Pouliot. "I gave it everything I had. Against all odds, I was able to complete the Dopey Challenge. I learned a lot about myself and that no matter what obstacles you're faced with, if you believe in yourself, you can achieve anything! As Walt Disney once said, 'it's kind of fun to do the impossible.'"
